ANOTHER DEAD MAN has been found, and another murder attempted, in Chicago.

A MOVEMENT, headed by Mayor Hoffman, has been inaugurated in New York to establish a free hospital for the poor of all classes in Atlanta, Ga.

A DETROIT police sergeant, Daniel W. Fales, has been arraigned in that city for the murder, in the month of August, of a colored man named Thorn Douglas.

THE Dyspeptic and Rheumatics are the titles of two base ball clubs, composed of artists and engravers in New York. In a late match game Dispepsia got ahead of Rheumatism.

HENRY BERGH has written a letter calling for merciful means of transportation of cattle from the West to New York. Similar demands might be made on behalf of "humans" transported on certain lines.

THE boiler of the steam tug Knickerbocker exploded on Monday, while the vessel lay at her pier, No. 52 North River, New York. Two men were somewhat injured, and the boat was torn to fragments.

MCVICHER & MEYRES, of the Chicago Theatre, announce that they will immediately tear away the partition between the white and colored portions of their audience. When the theatres do this and the Chicago Times advocate negro suffrage, what wont happen?

THE trial trip of the fast United States sloop of war Madawasha, commenced on Friday last, and she will return at the beginning of next week. She carries seventeen guns, is 2,135 tons burden, new measurement. She was built at the navy-yard, and launched in the summer of 1865.

THE ARTESIAN WELL at the stock yards in Chicago has reached water, and the pure, crystal liquid is flowing at the rate of sixty thousand gallons every twenty-four hours. This is not enough, and they are going to keep boring till they get one hundred and fourteen thousand gallons per day.

THE HEALTH COMMISSIONERS of Baltimore, in view of the recent sickness in that city, produced by eating diseased oysters, have ordered an inspection of all the bivalves offered in the market. We cannot help thinking that we should like to be "taster" for the board of inspection.

ON the 20th instant, the new patents will be issued in place of the old style, which were much larger, and therefore more expensive to the Patent Office, from the greater quantity of parchment used. Another important and economical change to be made is that of printing the specifications, instead of having them written, as heretofore, by copyists.

ON SATURDAY the sixty-first anniversary of the New York County Medical Society was celebrated at the College of Surgeons. The following bill of fare for a light supper before going to bed, was practically indorsed by the two hundred and seventy physicians present:

Oysters, fried; boned turkey, with gellee; chicken salad, French style; beef tongue, smoked, garnished; boiled Westphalen ham; Philadelphia chicken; tame ducks and geese, roast; corned beef, American style; lobster salad; sandwiches; plain celery; merengue of apple, a la Parisienne; vanilla and strawberry ice cream; white and claret wine punch; fruits; coffee.

A CALL has been issued for a Convention of the Superintendents of the Common Schools of the State of Pennsylvania to meet in Harrisburg on the 4th of December. Important changes in the School law will be proposed for the consideration of the Convention, providing for an increase of the minimum length of the annual school term; the establishment of uniformity of text book in each county; the support of "county institutes" by public appropriations; the abolishment of "provisional certificates;" the creation of district superintendencies;" the increase of "district institutes," and the enlargement of the number of the branches of study required by law.

LETTER FROM HARRISBURG.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

HARRISBURG, November 14, 1866.

The quid nunes are sorely exercised upon the subject of the incoming administration. The amount of guessing which this subject has developed, would do credit to Connecticut, and is totally at variance with the stolidity of Pennsylvania's character. One day these "learned pigs" have Cochran, of York county, as the coming man for Secretary of State, F. Carroll Brewster for Attorney General, Frank Jordan for Adjutant General. Next day comes a new deal of the cards, and Purviance, of Allegheny, is the Attorney General, Johnson, of Crawford county, is the Secretary of State and some hero the Adjutant. Again, Slifer and Meredith are to retain their positions, or, if Slifer goes out, Jordan, of Bedford, goes in, and so on, until ordinary heads like that of your correspondent, ache like unto Mr. Traemlow's, and I have as much difficulty as that very amiable nobody, and from the same prolific cause. Oh! that political trickery and Mr. Veneering were safely at the Devil with all their Tribe.

I am in constant dread that it will be discovered that this "great State of Pennsylvania" is going to utter destruction (and with it "the hopes of mankind") unless "Hawkeye" can be induced to emerge from his den, and, yielding himself up a sacrifice to appease the political furies, accept the portfolio of State! My friends endeavor to reassure me, but my dread is great nevertheless. I may escape.

The leeches here are making desperate efforts to perpetuate their fading power by surrounding Geary with a cordon of the "Ring." "It won't do. One thing—and it is the only thing now known of the future administration—is sure; the State for the next three years will be governed by a man who will either elevate the character of Pennsylvania or break his political neck in the attempt, and he will do this with the full knowledge that the firmly organized rascality of the ring will try to kill him if he makes war on it. Geary, however, has an uncomfortable fondness for a scrimmage, and you may expect a bitter fight within the next year from the 15th of January proximo.

The Senatorial contest seems to enjoy a lull. I cannot discover any strength for Grow, Forney, or Bigham. Yet, it may be that the thunderbolts are lying round loose in crushing profusion, and that when these Legislative joves proceed to gather them, (and hurl the same) that we shall all be astonished at their power. I shall I know.

We are in hourly dread of hearing that the foundations of civil Liberty have given way, and the bulwarks of the State gone under. For why? They have elected two negroes to the Legislature in Massachusetts! Now comes the test. Within a brief period ignorance, vice, infidelity, corruption, squalor, and all manner of evils must come on that hide-bound commonwealth, or the Democracy must hand over the mantle of Elijah Seward, Esq., and shut up shop. The future is big with danger, but 5-20 bonds remain exasperatingly firm.

The Presse also says: If Russia, in execution of her plans, should meet with any obstacle from the Turks, Prussia will range herself on her side. If any foreign intervention should thwart the work of assimilation, Northern Germany is already prepared for the absorption of the minor States south of the Main, Prussia can rely on the armed cooperation of Russia. It also points out the community of interests between Prussia and Russia in the work of denationalizing Poland.

The Pope has distributed to the Cardinals two allocutions delivered by his Holiness, in consistory, held on the 1st. In the first the Pope deplores the persecutions of the Church by the Italian government; the suppression of the religious orders; the secularization of the Ecclesiastical property, and the law of civil marriage, he declares to be null and void and repeats the censures of the Church against their authors. Nevertheless, His Holiness declares that he accords his benediction to Italy.

The Pope further protests against the invasion and usurpation of the pontifical provinces and against the project of making Rome the capital of the new kingdom. He states that the temporal power is indispensible to the independence of the spiritual power, and declares that he is ready even to suffer death for the maintenance of the sacred rights of the Holy See, and, if necessary, to seek in another country the requisite security for the better exercise of his apostolic ministry.

Finally, his Holiness prays that Italy may repent of the evils which she has brought upon the Church.

In the second allocution his Holiness states that the Russian Government has violated the concordate of 1848, and recalls the persecutions exercised against the Arch Bishop of Warsaw; the suppression of the dioceses of Bishops of their legitimate jurisdiction; the abolition of religious orders in Poland; all acts tending to the destruction of Catholicism in Russia. His Holiness concludes by offering up a prayer that the Czar may put an end to the persecutions of Catholics in the Russian dominions.

The Vienna journals contain the following account of the attempt on the life of the Emperor of Austria: On the evening of the 27th of October, the Emperor Francis Joseph visited the Czeh Theatre at Prague, where he was received with the National Anthem. His Majesty witnessed the performance for about an hour and on leaving the theatre, just as the Emperor had entered his carriage, the English Captain, Hugh P. F. Palmer, who was present in the crowd, observed a man raising his right hand with a pistol in it, and pointing it at the carriage. Captain Palmer had already, before the Emperor came out, observed the man in company with another and thought that he had seen something like a pistol in his hand, which caused him to watch him closely. When the pistol was pointed at the carriage, Captain Palmer distinctly noticed it being cocked, but could not see whether there was any percussion cap on. At the moment he observed this, he threw his left arm around the neck of the man, and with his right seized the hand that held the pistol pushing it downwards, and then it seemed to him that the man dropped the pistol into the side pocket of his paletot. At this moment the Imperial carriage drove away, upon which Captain Palmer dragged the would-be-assassin across the street and handed him over to the police.

THE WOOL GROWERS' CONVENTION.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazeete.

CLEVELAND, November 14, 1866.

Never upon this Continent, has there assembled a Convention more important to the agricultural world than that which commenced its sessions here to-day. It is composed of the wool growers of our country, and every State engaged to any extent in sheep raising has its representatives in the assembly, and the deliberations will be looked for with much interest.

Among the delegates we observe Edwin and George Hammond, Victor Wright, Col. Stowell, W. A. Saxon, E. E. Clay, H. N. Monger, of Vermont; Hon. H. B. Pottele, A. F. Wilcox, and others; Eli Stelson, President of the Wisconsin Agricultural Society; A. N. Garland, George McConnell, Hon. A. B. McConnell, S. D. Boarden, of Illinois; Thomas Goelry, W. F. Grier, Jos. Worcester, H. A. Peck, Denis Treat, I. Park Alexander, W. Williams, and others, of Ohio; Dr. F. J. LeMoyne, James Slocum, I. McDonald Glenn, Gen. Harry White, and Wm. Steuber.

During the afternoon and evening sessions there was a large and increased attendance. The Hon. Robert Montgomery, of Ohio, presided, administering the office of President with dignity and ability. The members present were earnest men, and thoroughly awake to the interests they represented, and fully qualified to understand and press the measures necessary to secure the highest success to those interests.

Eloquent and pertinent addresses were made by several of the delegates. The tenor of all the remarks was that the sole object of the convention was to inaugurate fresh efforts on the part of all interested, to secure the passage of the tariff bill postponed by the Senate at the last session of Congress. The necessity for this was urged with much ability, and fortified with strong and various arguments.

A Committee, consisting of one from each State represented, was appointed to draft resolutions, and reported strongly in favor of home protection and a high tariff, after which the Convention adjourned to meet on Thursday morning.

THE FENIANS.

Continuance of the Trials—The Argument in Whelan's Case—Progress of the Trial—Sentenced to Death.

TORONTO, November 14.—The Court resumed its sitting this morning, the Hon. Justice John Wilson presiding. The Sheriff having called over the jury panel, His Lordship directed the prisoner, Daniel Whelan, in whose case Mr. McKenzie challenged the array of jurors yesterday, to be brought in.

Mr. McKenzie—I would ask your Lordship to allow me a few minutes private consultation with the prisoner before the jury is sworn.

His Lordship—Well, let it be a short one; all day yesterday was wasted through your objections.

Mr. McKenzie: I regret to hear your Lordship express yourself so; I have always given you credit for sincerity, and thought you would give the same. Although you may view these objections as trivial, with all our respect to your opinion, I am convinced in turn that the challenge was well founded.

Mr. McKenzie, after having consulted with his client, read and put in an affidavit made by the prisoner, setting forth at length the objections made to the challenge yesterday, in which he begged to quash the panel; in the event of refusing to quash the jury list, or to grant him a rule upon the Attorney General of Upper Canada, to show why this course should not be pursued; or else to put off the trial.

Hon. J. H. Cameron, on the part of the Crown, stated that there was no fact alleged in the affidavit, which would warrant such a course.

His Lordship—I decline the application.

Mr. McKenzie then claimed that as the prisoner was an alien, he should be tried by a jury decommula lingua.

The Hon. Mr. Cameron objected on the ground that the prisoner had already pleaded to the indictment.

His Lordship—I think the prisoner should not be excluded from that right; let a precept be drawn up and handed to the sheriff to summon as jurymen, six citizens of the United States.

Mr. McKenzie—As this may take some time and make delay, after consultation with my friend, I have agreed to waive my right. Mr. McKenzie stated that he required the prisoner, Col. O'Neil, as witness.

His Lordship desired him to be sent for. Mr. McNabe opened the case for the Crown in a short address and called John Metcalf, who being sworn, said that the prisoner made the following statement at St. Calborne: He said he was an American, born in Jackson county, State of New York; that he lived a portion of his time in Canada; that he left for Cleveland three years ago, and left there for Buffalo on the 30th of May to go to Ireland to liberate her; that he came over with several others to Canada in canal boats; was wounded at Lime Ridge. He said they retreated at Lime Ridge because the officer in command had given a wrong order; he said there were 1,500 men engaged at Ridgeway under command of Col. O'Neil. He stated that the Fenians were obliged to retire in consequence of the heavy fire from our troops.

Robert Bloss Lynch, sworn—Am prisoner in jail under sentence of death. My home is Louisville, Kentucky; was employed formerly in the army, but latterly in the Commercial House there as book-keeper. While in the army I wrote several letters for newspapers, but was not specially employed; was in Canada in the beginning of June; was reporter for the Louisville Courier. I was to report to Mr. James McDermot, of Louisville, who held the position of Adjutant General of the Fenian Brotherhood for the State of Kentucky. He was to revise the letters and have them published; was not armed at the time; did not come over in a military capacity. I saw the prisoner in June last when he said he wanted to get back on the American side; do not know whether the prisoner is a Fenian or not.

Several affidavits as to character were then put in. Mr. McKenzie briefly addressed the jury on behalf of the prisoner, urging that he was brought over here when under the influence of drink, consequently he was not responsible for the act.

His Lordship having charged the Jury they retired at twenty minutes to two. At five minutes to two o'clock, the jury returned with the verdict of guilty. The Hon. J. H. Cameron then moved for sentence. Mr. McKenzie moved an arrest of judgment on the same grounds as in the case of the Queen vs. Hayden.

His Lordship then addressed the prisoner, who having nothing to say why the sentence should not be passed, ordered that he be hanged on the 13th of December. The prisoner received the sentence without manifesting the slightest emotion and smiled with evident indifference at the proceedings.

The trial of John Quinn was then proceeded with.

John Quinn, late of Rochester, and formerly of the South, was finally placed in the dock. His counsel produced an affidavit asking that his trial be postponed, in order to obtain the evidence of an important witness.

His Lordship ruled the affidavit not sufficient to postpone.

Several witnesses were examined. The jury, after a short consultation, returned a verdict of "Guilty." He was then sentenced to be hanged on the 13th of December.

The Accident on the Buffalo and Erie Railroad—Further Particulars.

BUFFALO, November 14.—The following additional particulars were received of the railroad disaster near Erie: The train consisted of four baggage and express, one second and five first class coaches. Half a mile east of Wesleyville the train ran off the track in consequence of the trackmen having a rail up. The cars were badly smashed. Four passengers were killed and forty-one injured, none seriously, no limbs being broken. Many of the wounded resumed their journey; about twelve remaining at Erie. The following are the names of the killed: Matthew Hart, supposed to be from Iowa; Dr. William Wheeler, of Elbridge, Onandago county, New York; T. C. Hunt, and a boy four years of age, son of Mrs. West, of Milwaukee. Order No. 44 Revoked Through Obedience to the President.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The Post's special says: General Grant has revoked orders No. 3 and 44, which he issued for the purpose of protecting the Union people of the south, by the military power. The revocation is made upon the distinct ground that the President's order subsequently issued, nullifies the orders. General Grant tells his friends that he still believes in the necessity for such orders, but submits to his superior, who takes the responsibility.

Society of the Army of Tennessee—Meeting at Cincinnati—Members Present—Decorations.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 14.—The Society of the Army of Tennessee was called to order by President Rawlings, when, after prayer by Rev. Mr. M'Carty, Colonel Dayton, the Secretary, read the proceedings of the preliminary meeting at Raleigh, North Carolina, on April 14th, 1865, and also of a subsequent meeting, which were adopted. The constitution defines the object of the meeting to be to preserve those kindly and cordial feelings that distinguished the officers of the Army of the Tennessee, and contributed so hugely to the success of its arms, and also to reciprocate the fraternal affection in acts of brotherly love to those of the society, or their families, who may be in need of sympathy or aid, and any officer of the Army of Tennessee who has served honorably is entitled to membership, and all officers of other armies can become honorary members. The Society is to hold an annual reunion. Every officer is expected to be present at each reunion, or address a letter to the Secretary communicating such facts about himself as may be interesting to the fraternity.

On motion, Generals Belknap and Howard, and Colonels Peckham, Kimber and Garben were appointed a committee to nominate officers for the ensuing year.

At the request of Colonel Peckham, the Secretary stated that the number of officers who were thus far registered to-day was one hundred and thirty; that the number at the last banquet was two hundred and fifty, all of whom were anxious to co-operate with the society, and he had no doubt that there were five hundred who would become acting members.

Generals Force, Wood and Giles A. Smith were appointed as a Committee to propose amendments to the constitution and form bylaws, after which the society adjourned till half-past two P. M.

Mozart Hall is finely decorated for the occasion. Across the stage is the motto: "For God, our Country, and the Right," while stretching from the ceiling to the floor are names of all battles, participated in by the Army of the Tennessee. All around the Hall are numberless flags, including many of the old regimental colors borne in action. The business of the afternoon meeting was confined mainly to reading letters from officers who could not be present, including those from Grant, Sherman, Hancock, Howard, Mead, Sheridan, Schofield and others. After some discussion as to the propriety of admitting private soldiers to membership a committee was appointed to report on the subject to-morrow. The meeting then adjourned. To-night at a public meeting held at Mozart Hall, Generals Rawlins and Noyes delivered speeches. A poem, written and delivered by Thomas Buchanan Read was received, which closed the day's proceedings.

Future of the Democratic Party—The Chicago "Times" and the New York "World."

NEW YORK, November 14.—The recent article in the Chicago Times concerning the future of the Democratic party, excites general comment.

The World this morning counsels the Southern States to offer some sort of an amendment of their own. It says: We believe that the true way out of the present difficulty is by the spontaneous action of the South itself when the Southern States have all rejected the amendment, as they certainly will, and have thereby demonstrated that they are masters of the situation so far as that is concerned. We trust they will, by some method of joint action, make a counter proposition, referring to the recent elections and the votes of large numbers of naturalized citizens.

The Times urges the leaders of the Republican party to consider the bearing of the law passed by the last Legislature, and see if temperance and good order cannot be better secured by some medium course. The bill making habitual drunkenness a sufficient cause for divorce has passed the Vermont Legislature by 13 to 11, with an amendment requiring that the drunkenness must be of two years duration previous to the finding of the libel.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—There is much speculation as the whereabouts of James Stephens, C. O. I. R. Some believe him to have sailed for Ireland, while others believe him to be still in the city.

Representatives of the Independent Order of Good Samaritans and Daughters of Samaria met in this city this evening to organize a Grand Lodge of the State of New York, under the jurisdiction of the Right Worthy National Grand Lodge of North America.

The Selma, Alabama, Messenger says: The cotton crop has been cut short by the frost fully one-fifth, which must be deducted from the lowest estimate made some two weeks since. We believe this will apply to all the cotton region north of this. The picking season has been and continues to be remarkably good, which will enable the planters to get in their crops early. We look for the receipts to fall off in December and higher prices to rule.

Efforts for Jeff. Davis' Release—Letter from Gov. Humphrey.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Messrs. Hillyer and Lowry, the Mississippi commission, to-day called upon the President by previous appointment having yesterday sent to him the resolution of the Legislature of that state in relation to Jeff. Davis. They presented to him a letter from Gov. Humphrey, who says, among other things, that those whom he represents do not seek to screen Mr. Davis from trial; that his imprisonment is not necessary to secure his presence when desired for trial; that his continual incarceration threatens fatal results to his health; that the ends of justice will be reached by admitting him to bail or parole, which they severally ask. The documents seem to assume that there will be no trouble.

The President received the Commissioners courteously, and informed them that he would give to the application due consideration.

Tennessee Crops—General Thomas and Gen. Hood Dine Together—Gen. Jeff. C. Davis' Denial.

LOUISVILLE, November 14.—J. R. Lewis, Commissioner of the Tennessee Freedmen's Bureau, reports the cotton crop one-half the average; tobacco, over full crop and quality superior; corn, nearly the average; wheat less than the average; oats, full average. The crop in East Tennessee is much better than usual.

General Thomas and the ex Confederate General Hood dined together to-day at the Louisville Hotel.

General Jeff. C. Davis denies that he was consulted in reference to the military arrangements relating to the late obsequies of the ex-Confederate General Hanson.

(ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS ON THIRD PAGE.)

The Wrong Man in the Right Place—A Man Arrested for one "Big Thing" and Found Guilty of Another.

We stated in Tuesday morning's paper that officer Seth Wilmot, of the Independent Police, was on the track of a man who, it was thought, had in his possession some of the money recently cut from the pocket of Mr Townsend, of New Jersey, while in this city. On Tuesday, officer Wilmot started to investigate the matter, but an accident to the train compelled him to return and defer his trip until yesterday. Yesterday he started again on his mission, and proceeded to Deer Creek, where, after a brief delay, he succeeded in arresting his man, Charles L. Martin, alias Chas. Perbasco. On searching the prisoner, the bills of Mr. Townsend's money were not found in his possession, but he was found to have on his person a large number of drafts, orders and notes, amounting to some $15,000, which he evidently had no business with, and which he said he had found. These drafts, &c., were on R. Lamberton & Co., and Ferrias, Follet & Co., bankers in Oil City, and were drawn by A. Conkle and made payable to various parties of whom Mr. Conkle had purchased oil. In August last these papers all disappeared, Mr. David Edgerton, of Tarentum, in whose possession they were, having lost the pocket-book containing them while driving in his buggy between Lawrenceville and the Sharpsburg bridge. Martin, as has been ascertained, was riding behind Mr. Edgerton with some ladies, and saw the pocket-book fall. He sprang out, picked up the wallet and has retained possession of it and the papers ever since. Officer Wilmot brought him before Alderman Strain and preferred a charge of constructive larceny against him. In default of $5,000 bail the prisoner was committed for a hearing on Wednesday next.

The Accident on the Buffalo and Erie Road—Where the Blame Lies.

From the Cleveland Herald of last evening, we extract the following concerning the fearful accident already reported by telegraph:

The accident happened near Wesleyville, about four o'clock in the afternoon. The train consisted of five coaches filled with passengers, and five baggage and express cars, and was a little behind time, to make up which it was running at the rate of forty miles an hour, on a down grade. At the point of the accident workmen were engaged in repairing the track, and had taken out two rails. They must have known, or if they did not they should have known, that the train was due at that time, but no signal was sent to warn the approaching train of the danger, until it was heard coming thundering around a curve, only a few rods from where the rails had been removed, when a man rushed up the track, swinging his hat. The engineer reversed his engine, the brakes were put hard on, and everything done to check the headlong speed of the train. But it was too late. The train reached the fatal spot, and plunged into the trap laid for it by the gross and criminal neglect of the workmen. The train was thrown down an embankment some ten or fifteen feet, breaking some of the cars into fragments, and piling them up into a confused mass.

The first and second passenger cars were the most injured, but the whole train was more or less damaged. Mr. Warren describes the scene at this time as terrible. The passengers were jammed in the debris of the broken cars, and the cries of the wounded who were fastened in by the crushed and broken cars were awful to hear. In the second car, in which Mr. Warren was seated, there were four killed outright, and nearly all in the car more or less injured.

The Erie Dispatch of yesterday speaks as follows of the accident: The causes which led to the accident were those of the grossest and most criminal carelessness on the part of the workmen, every one of whom, and chiefly the boss of the gang, should be indicted for murder. There is no excuse for them. They knew the train to be due, and did not take precaution to send back a flag to stop it, or resort to any means to prevent the terrible accident which it must have been evident would happen.

The Skating Season.

Winter with its icy opportunities is coming on with a rapid march, and will soon be here in the full power of its vigorous reign. There is no earthly reason why that reign should not be one of the most unlimited pleasure to us all. The icy air of December stings an exhileration into the blood, that is a higher enjoyment than any summer heats can bring. What method of putting this joy into action can compare with skating! All our readers know the glory of motion to be enjoyed on our parks and on the rivers. We wish to tell those who do not know, and to remind those who have forgotten, that the most magnificent lot of skates to be met with in a day's travel, is to be obtained at the store of James Bown, No. 136 Wood street. Mr. Bown has five thousand pairs of the most magnificent makes, to be sold wholesale and retail at reasonable prices. We invite attention to his advertisement in another column.

An Old and Estimable Citizen Departed.

One by one our old valued citizens are quitting this shore of the river for the other. One by one their familiar faces disappear and the places that knew them know them no more. Another old and esteemed resident of our city departed this life yesterday, leaving a large and devoted circle of friends to mourn his loss.

Hugh Campbell, Esq., a native of county Tyrone, parish of Fintown, Ireland, died last evening, at his residence, No. 47 Gibbon street, in the Eighth ward, after a protracted illness, during which he suffered much from an aggravated form of dropsy. The deceased was aged sixty-two years, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. The time of the funeral will be announced hereafter.

Charged with Stealing.—Lawrence Mooney keeps a willow store on the corner of Market and Fifth streets, and Joseph Terry is his clerk. Mr. Mooney has suspected his clerk's honesty and distributed some marked money among his friends to spend at the willow store. Yesterday the cash account didn't balance and the marked money was not all forthcoming. Therefore Mr. Mooney made information against his suspected clerk for larceny before Alderman Strain, and the accused was held for a hearing.

Wouldn't Remove It.—George Moffatt resides on Boyd street, and in front of his premises, are various obstructions which he has been warned from time to time to remove. He utterly refused to fulfil his instructions, and yesterday Street Commissioner Flynn preferred two charges against him before Alderman Morrow for obstructing the highway. The offender was arrested and fined $2 on each charge.

Dishonest "Feed Boy."—Samuel Murdoch is "feed boy" to the Volks Blatt newspaper, and yesterday the clerk of the establishment charged him before Alderman Morrow with the larceny of $4 in money from the desk of the office. The accused was arrested and held for a hearing.

Inquest in the Case of John Grinnage.

John Grinnage, whose accidental shooting of himself on Tuesday morning we reported yesterday, died at half-past eight o'clock on Tuesday evening. His remains were removed to his boarding house, near Decatur street, yesterday morning, and during the afternoon Coroner Clawson held an inquest in the case.

Mr. J. M. Kennedy was the first witness examined and testified that he occupied as a tobacco shop, a portion of the same building occupied by the deceased. On Tuesday morning Grinnage came over to the shop, with his little girl, and sang and reviewed lessons with her until school time. He came into Mr. Kennedy's shop and Mr. K. returned with him to his own room and the deceased appeared in the very best of spirits. At length Mr. Davis, a colored man living in the upper portion of the building, came into Grinnage's shop and sat down, and Mr. Kennedy went into his own portion of the building. A few moments afterwards he heard the report of the pistol and on running into the barber shop discovered the deceased sitting in his arm chair with his head thrown back, and the pistol on the floor beside him. The deceased, so far as witness knew, had no difficulty with any person living. He was always of a genial disposition and very cheerful.

Jeremiah Smith, sworn—Am a member of the Allegheny Police; on the morning in question I was standing opposite Mr. Grinnage's shop; did not hear the report of the pistol, but saw people running towards the shop; went over supposing there was a fight, went in and found deceased sitting in his chair wounded; the pistol lay by the right side of the chair under the right hand of the deceased; on examination found the shell of an exploded cartridge in the breech; as I went in I heard Mr Grinnage say several times, "help me."

R. H. Davis, (colored) sworn—Live in the upper portion of the building occupied by deceased; on Tuesday morning I went down into his shop and sat down by the stove, and Mr. Kennedy was in the shop cutting up with Mr. Grinnage; pretty soon Mr. Kennedy went out and Mr. Grinnage came and sat down by me; he had his pistol in his hand and let me take it to examine it; it was not loaded, and deceased showed me the cartridge in his hand: I have often seen the deceased with the pistol, and have fired it with him at a target; we talked a little while about what execution the pistol would do, and then I went up to my breakfast; a few minutes afterwards I heard the report of the pistol, and the apprentice boy called out that John had shot himself in the ear. I ran down and found the deceased as described. I spoke to him but he made no answer; the doctors were immediately sent for and came; I dont think he had any trouble on his mind, and was always cheerful; I have known him since 1848.

Alexander Mannel (colored) sworn—Was brother-in-law and apprentice to deceased. On Tuesday morning, I sat behind the stove almost asleep, but saw what was going on. After Mr. Davis left, Mr. Grinnage still sat in his chair playing with his pistol. He had it in his right hand and kept swinging it about his head carelessly. Have very often seen him play with the pistol that way. I have told him not to be so careless with it. All of a sudden I heard the pistol go off and he dropped it out of his hand. I jumped up and found that he had shot himself. I called Mr. Davis and went for Dr. Thorn.

Dr. Thomas Mahon, sworn—Was called in this case between ten and eleven o'clock, yesterday morning. Found the wounded man on a settee, insensible, with a small opening in his skull over the right ear. Incised the scalp and probed the wound to the depth of three inches. The ball had taken a direct course horizontally across the brain, and there were portions of the brain oozing out of the bullet-hole. Considered the case hopeless, and made no further examination. Such a wound might have been made accidentally.

The Jury, after deliberating on the evidence adduced, decided that the deceased came to his death by being accidentally shot through the brain by a pistol carelessly handled in the hands of the deceased.

A Dastardly Outrage.

An outrage was committed yesterday morning near the Union Depot, that is a disgrace to our city, and demands the most prompt and thorough action on the part of the authorities.

On Tuesday night, at a late hour, Mrs. Conor, a Scotch woman, recently arrived in this country, arrived in the city on the emigrant train from the east, accompanied by her two little children and her brother, a lad of about thirteen years. She was on her way to Youngstown, near which place her husband, John Connor, a coal digger, is at work, he having sent for her and his children to join him. Mrs. Connor remained at the emigrant depot until the morning, when she procured tickets for herself and children to Youngstown, and got her baggage checked to the same place. Her tickets and checks she placed in a little hand satchel, which also contained her pocket book, with all her money. She then went with the children, between five and six o'clock, to the Irwin House, on Liberty street and procured some breakfast, for which she paid and replaced her pocket book in her satchel, after which she started for the Union Depot. She was followed out by two men and before she had proceeded many steps, one of them passed in front of her and seized her satchel, demanding to know what she had in it. The frightened woman endeavored to release the bag from his grasp, but he caught her by her dress, which he tore considerably, and wrenched the satchell from her, after which the two men made off with their booty. The poor woman commenced to call for assistance and a crowd immediately started in pursuit of the cowardly thieves, but did not overtake them. Officer Fox, Chief of the depot police, promptly took every measure demanded to the case, but so far no clue to the perpetrators of the robbery has been obtained.

The satchel, as we have stated, contained Mrs. Conner's tickets and checks, besides all her money—something over sixty dollars, so that she was left literally penniless. Some kind gentleman—we wish we could have learned his name—procured other tickets for the unfortunate woman, and yesterday afternoon she started to join her husband who is employed at Powers' coal bank, in Moreland county, Ohio, near Youngstown. The money consisted of five $10 bill, four $2 bills and several of other denominations.

There is a permanent gang of professional and unmitigated scoundrels—thieves, desperadoes and rowdies—infesting the city, and it is they who now and again, shock and disgrace us with such outrages as this. There ought to be some law by which every suspicious and disreputable personage could be arrested and attended to, no matter whether there were any specific charges against him or not. A little while of such regime, would make it safe for an unprotected woman to go from the Irwin House to the depot in daylight.

New School Building.

For a number of years the limited capacity of the Seventh ward School House has been a source of annoyance to the residents of that ward, whose children being pupils in the institution were so crowded together as to materially interfere with their studies and materially injure their health. To remedy this defect the Board of School Directors have a site for a new edifice on the corner of Granville and Enoch streets, in which they intend to erect a structure that will vie in beauty and comfort with any institution for educational purposes in the two cities. The drawings and specifications for the new building are in course of preparation by an able architect, and the foundation of the building is now being constructed. The full length of the building will be one hundred and sixty feet, nine inches. The main or centre portion will be four stories high, not including the basement, one-half of which is above ground, on account of the grade. The depth of the wings is fifty feet nine inches each. The main or centre portion of the building projects five feet at the front and twenty feet in the rear of the building, making its whole depth seventy-five feet, nine inches. In this, the central portion, there will be two entrances, both in front and rear, and the halls and stairways to each room.

On each of the three floors will be seven commodious school rooms, making twenty-one in all—more, we believe, than there is in any other of our large school buildings. On the fourth story will be a large and elegant hall for exhibitions, &c. It will be seventy-one feet nine inches by forty-six feet nine inches, and its height, from floor to ceiling, eighteen feet. The height of the other stories will be as follows: The first fourteen feet, and the second and third sixteen feet.

All the rooms will be supplied with the necessary furniture and conveniences, and with a wash and clothes closet. That portion of the basement which is above ground, will contain a room for public meetings of the citizens of the ward, and an election room; another good sized room for meetings of directors, and four rooms for the janitor and his family. In front, under the centre of the building, will be two large furnaces, and the building will be heated by steam entirely.

The estimated cost of the building is forty thousand dollars, and it is expected it will be put up next spring. When finished the citizens may well feel proud of it, and the increased good it will do will well repay the outlay.

Accident on the Connellsville Railroad.

A coal train on the Connellsville Railroad was thrown from the track yesterday near Alpsville. The engine jumped the track and was thrown down the embankment, most of the train following it. One car became detached and went down the bank on its own hook. It ran end foremost, at full speed, directly towards a dwelling that stood near the track. The family in the house were at supper, but seeing so formidable an object heading for them, they made a speedy end of the repast and rushed out of the back door. Luckily, however, the car ploughed so deeply into the earth that its progress was checked within four feet of the door. Very fortunately, no person on the train was injured, and the only damage done was in smashing the train and tearing up the track somewhat. The regular trains were considerably delayed, but will be running all right to-day.

General Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.

At eleven o'clock yesterday morning, the General Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church convened in the First M. P. Church, Allegheny, (Rev. V. Lucas, pastor.) The body is composed of delegates, ministerial and lay, from twenty-five Annual Conferences, and holds its sessions quadrennially.

At eleven o'clock the Conference was called to order by Rev. V. Lucas, upon whose motion Rev. John Scott, D. D., of Springfield, Ohio, and editor of the Western Methodist Protestant, was elected temporary President, and Rev. Messrs. J. H. Hamilton and T. B. Graham appointed temporary Secretaries.

The Conference was then opened with religious exercises, Dr. Scott reading a portion of the Scriptures from the first chapter of the First Epistle of John. The hymn commencing, "Come Holy Spirit, Heavenly Dove," was then sung, after which prayer was offered up by Dr. Scott, imploring Divine guidance during the deliberations of the body.

After these exercises had been concluded the President announced that the presentation of the credentials of delegates was next in order, upon which delegates from the following annual conferences handed their credentials to the Secretaries: Muskingum, Pittsburgh, Ohio, New Jersey, Onondaga, Genesee, North Illinois and Missouri. The delegates from the other conferences will probably arrive in the city to-day.

The roll of delegates was then read, and clerical errors corrected.

A motion was made for the appointment of a committee of three on Permanent Organization, with instructions to report at the afternoon session. The motion was adopted, and Rev. V. Lucas, and Messrs. Gunkle and Chambers appointed said Committee by a vote of the Conference.

Rev. J. S. Thrapp moved that a committee of three be appointed to prepare Rules of Order. The motion was adopted, and by vote of Conference, Rev. J. S. Thrapp, Rev. Dr. Reeves and Mr. Douglas were appointed.

The Conference then adjourned until half-past one o'clock, and was dismissed after prayer by Rev. T. B. Graham.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At the appointed hour the Conference reassembled and opened with prayer.

The Committee on nomination reported candidates, and the following were elected for permanent officers:

President—Rev. John Scott, D. D., Pittsburgh Conference.

Secretaries—Rev. J. J. White, A. M., Ohio Conference, and Rev. E. A. Wheat, of Canandaigua Conference.

Dr. Scott, the President chosen, is the editor of the Western Methodist Protestant, published at Springfield, Ohio, and was the President of the first non-Episcopal Methodist Convention in Cleveland. He is a dignified, scholarly gentleman, and a most excellent presiding officer.

After the transaction of some further business, the Conference adjourned to meet at the same place this morning at half-past eight o'clock.

Sudden Death of a Woman—Suspicion of Foul Play.

Yesterday Coroner Clawson was summoned to hold an inquest on the remains of Mary Mylan, an Irishwoman, who resided with her husband and children in the upper portion of Philo Hall, on Third street, and who died suddenly yesterday morning. The deceased was a poor woman about forty years of age and had been in usual health up to sometime during Tuesday night, when she was taken suddenly and violently ill, and at nine o'clock yesterday morning died. From the suddenness and violence of her sickness, taken with the fact that she had lived unhappily with her husband, John Mylan, suspicions of foul play were aroused among the neighbors, and the Coroner was summoned as stated.

At the inquest several of the neighbors were examined as witnesses, and nearly all testified that in former periods the husband of the deceased had abused and violently maltreated her—one deposing [illegible] beating her [illegible] quantities of her hair. There was no evidence, however, that he had recently had any trouble with her. It seems that during Tuesday night the deceased awakened her husband by violent symptoms of illness, vomiting and purging excessively. The husband called in some neighbors and sent at once for Dr. J. Rogers. The Dr. came at about two o'clock in the morning and found the woman, as he stated to the jury, apparently in the last stages of cholera morbus, being very cold and partially cramped. He gave at once [illegible] the usual remedies and made the woman as comfortable as possible. Yesterday morning, the woman being still alive, the husband desired to remove her to Mercy Hospital. Accordingly he started with her in a carriage, but before getting there she died in his arms.

The jury in the case returned a verdict of death from natural causes.

Supreme Court—Adjournment.

This Court convened yesterday morning, at half-past nine o'clock, Justices Thompson, Strong, Read and Agnew on the bench. The following cases were disposed of:

Myers vs. Cuppy; C. P. Judgment of non pros.

Allegheny County vs. Evans; D. C. Submitted by Carnahan for plaintiff in error, and Hasbrouck, contra.

Page vs. Heath; D. C. Continued for argument at Philadelphia on the last Wednesday of March next.

Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad Company vs. Hindle; C. P. Submitted by Hampton for plaintiff in error, and by Marshal, contra.

Ferguson's appeal; D. C. Submitted by Ferguson for appellant, and by Schoyer and Brown, contra.

The following judgments were entered and opinions delivered:

By STRONG, J.—Smith vs. Frazier et al.; Jefferson county. Affirmed.

Farmers' Railroad Company vs. Reno, Oil Creek and Pithole Railroad Company; Venango county. Special injunction dissolved.

By AGNEW, J.—Kibble vs. Miller; Greene county. Affirmed.

Crawford vs. School Directors of Burrell township, Westmoreland county. Affirmed.

McClintockville Petroleum Company vs. Metz; C. P. Affirmed on an equal division of the Court.

Court then adjourned, to meet in Philadelphia on the first Monday of January next.

The Weather.

The cold, cheerless Autumnal days are upon us, with their hoar frosts, and chill foggy mornings, which are only the fore-runners of the more intense and piercing blasts of winter. In our peculiar climate, where the atmosphere is pregnant with bronchial disease, and where there is so much danger attached to even the slightest cold, contracted by carelessness in failing to warmly clothe the body it behooves all to prepare for the inclement season, by providing ourselves with comfortable and seasonable wearing apparel, such as shawls, robes, high lacing balmorals, and heavy woolen country blankets, to cover us with their soft ample folds while we sleep.

The place to buy such articles is at the extensive auction house of T. A. McClelland, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street, where the largest and most varied stock of those goods we have ever seen is for sale. [illegible] furs is especially deserving of mention, embracing, as it does, Russian sable, Siberian squirrel, muskrat and German and American fitch. Mr. McClelland has bought his goods at auction, and will sell them at [illegible] the rush of everybody, and cause the retail dealers to cut down their prices.

Don't forget the place, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street, under the big sign.

United States District Court.

At the last session of Congress an act was passed directing that two terms of the United States District Court be held in the city of Erie each year, and the months of January and July fixed as the time for holding such terms. In pursuance of this act, which was approved on the 28th of July last, Hon. Wilson McCandless will hold the first term of his Court at Erie, in January next, commencing on the first Monday of the month. A venire of Jurors has already been issued, and other preliminary arrangements are being made. Judge McCandless will hereafter have five regular terms of his Court yearly, three in this city, one at Williamsport, Lycoming county, and two at Erie.

THE FLANK MOVEMENT.

There are a considerable number of journals, whatever may be their public professions, that at bottom regard politics as merely a game to be played with the best advantage the situation allows. They have no strong convictions, are incapable of great emotions, count success the highest duty, and the means that will lead to success by the shortest road the highest expediency. When it served to magnify their party they were ready to discard and contemn all the doctrines and safeguards of Personal Liberty, and to set up slavery as the god to be worshipped in all democratic temples. When they had pressed this policy to the utmost possible extreme; had kept their party in power by it through a long succession of years; until in the progress of intellectual enlightenment and the quickening of moral consciousness, thoughtful and candid men everywhere revolted at the profanation; they had the temerity to cast all their influence in favor of a gigantic rebellion which had for its object the breaking up of the very foundations of popular government on this continent, and sending our vast population and property interests adrift, with only such chances for the future as the winds and waves permitted. When the rebellion was subdued, and order was again emerging from the chaos in which the Southern States were plunged, they again struck hands with the rebels, began to read loyal men who had saved the nation solemn lectures on the inviolability of the Constitution, on the inherent and indistructible rights of the States, in the grace of forgiving injuries, and on various other topics which they took special pains not to illustrate in their lives. In this new issue they have not simply been beaten, but overwhelmed.

The Chicago Times now claims that it is essential for the Democratic party to cut away from all its old and recent commitments and to take a new departure. It makes no confession that the principles and measures for which that party has struggled are wrong or ruinous; nor does it go so far as to affirm that the new measures and doctrines which it deems essential are wise and beneficent. It simply declares that the only chance the Democratic party has of keeping its head above water is to take a bold stand in favor of equal rights and universal suffrage. It is not uncharitable to say, it cares nothing for principles and measures, but has an uncontrolable passion for being in the majority. In the economy of the world, perhaps it is well that motives of this lower order sway those who instinctively repel those which are higher and better.

This change of front is eliciting much comment throughout the country. In some circles it is attributed to that impatience and recklessness for which the Times is noted. In others to a desire for creating a sensation by assuming an anomalous attitude. Neither of these conjectures hit the real solution. We happen to know that the defeat of the Democratic party, foreshadowed by the October elections, led to earnest consultations among leading Democrats, in which all the alternatives were freely discussed. After the November elections, in at least one Democratic State Committee, it was resolved to be indispensable to abandon President JOHNSON, to repudiate his Policy, and to go back to something that had the savor of Democracy upon it. We do not certainly know, but we believe, the Times, upon preconcert, was put forward to sound the key-note of the movement it is proposed to inaugurate. It has been sounded. What now remains is to await the disclosure of the impression made thereby upon the Democratic party. If the foremost men accept it as affording a reasonable, or the only way, of getting back into power, we shall hear or read no more fierce diatribes from that quarter against the black race, but will be supplied with numerous ethnological and moral treatises on the equality and brotherhood of all men. Suddenly the blacks will lose that pungent musk which is so offensive to democratic nostrils, and be accounted sweet as a freshly opened rose in June. If the response shall be unfavorable; if prejudice, deeply inwrought into the very fibres of the party, shall refuse to give way; if the indulgence of sullen pride under hopeless defeat shall be held preferable to new adventure and promising opportunities; then the Times will readily revert to its old position, treating its present brochure as a harmless play upon popular credulity—as a fantastic escapade by which the bitterness of defeat was softened and the rejoicings of its opponents checked.

WHIPPING IN SCHOOLS.

Some months ago a young woman attending school in Cambridge, Massachusetts, was punished by her instructors, the principal, a man, holding her, while two assistants, women, applied the castigation. The method and the amount of the punishment were both deemed extraordinary, and the sex and age of the pupil added to the popular indignation. A criminal prosecution for assault and battery was instituted against Mr. B. W. ROBERTS, the principal, and a trial upon this indictment has recently been concluded. It was shown that JOSEPHINE B. FOSTER whispered; that when questioned about that breach of the rules, she gave an evasive answer; and when farther pressed was impertinent; that in the recitation room one of the female assistants attempted to punish her for the impertinence, but she refused to submit; that afterwards two female assistants joined their efforts to the same end, and succeeded indifferently well; that Mr. ROBERTS, coming in at this moment, rendered aid by holding the pupil, while the female assistants applied the punishment for a period of some ten minutes, inflicting some twenty blows with a leather strap about the size of an ordinary trace, and eighteen inches long. It was proved that the pupil's shoulder was lame for several days, and that one of her hands was so swollen that she could not put on her glove till the next day.

The Judge charged the jury, that if they believed undue severity had been exercised they ought to bring in a verdict of guilty. For two long hours they revolved the evidence and applied thereto the rule of law, and then agreed upon a verdict of not guilty. So far as the rendition of this verdict goes we have an authoritative exposition of what is regarded in Massachusetts as proper school discipline. About it differences of opinion have already been disclosed. In some quarters objection is made not to the punishment, but to the fact that it was inflicted on a girl, verging upon womanhood. In other quarters it is maintained that all corporeal chastisement is debasing in its nature and tendency, and that resort ought to be had, instead, to moral and mental inflictions. Just here, another class of objectors interpose, demanding to know if it is not more cruel to torture the mind and sentiments than to lacerate the body, and insist that all forms of punishment are inadmissible. They go so far as to declare that teachers who cannot govern their pupils by appeals to their pride of character and to their sense of right and wrong are unfit to engage in the work of instruction. On each of these heads much is urged that may profitably be reflected upon.

AT CHICAGO, a few days ago, General Simpson, President of the Board of Government Commissioners of the Union Pacific Railway, proposed that Congress should be asked to allow the immediate commencement of the Utah division of that enterprise, and stated that if this should be done the whole road could be completed within three years.

THE uncertainty of law has a striking illustration. Judge Bond, of Baltimore, caused Governor Swann's Police Commissioners to be arrested, endeavoring to create a breach of the peace and imprisoned for want of bail. The case has had a re-hearing before Judge Bartol, of the same city, and he has decided strongly the other way.

THE term of Mr. Foster, President of the Senate, will expire on the fourth of next March. The radicals naturally turn to Mr. Wade of Ohio as his successor. A feeling prevails that a man ought to be selected whose votes have not only been right, but whose associations and conduct have also been right all through.

THE President claims the right to disobey the clearly expressed will of his masters, the people, but is more than ever resolved to bring to the block the head of every office-holder who fails to implicitly obey his behests, not in the matter of official duty, but of outside political action.

MR. MCCULLOCH, it is stated, will, in his forthcoming annual report, recommend the passage of measures looking to a speedy resumption of specie payments. If he acctually does, the country will have one good thing to thank him for.

UNION PACIFIC RAILWAY—EASTERN DIVISION.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

ST. LOUIS, November 10, 1866.

Having completed our tour of observation of this great national thoroughfare, and of the magnificent region it traverses, I now propose to speak more particularly of its inception, history, advantages, prospects, eastern connections and western progress. Incidentally to the discussion of these subjects, I shall endeavor to convey to the minds of the readers of the GAZETTE some idea of that portion of our national domain lying west of the Mississippi—that mediterranean river of our country, which bisects it from north to south, leaving about two-fifths of our territory on the Atlantic side, and three-fifths on the Pacific side.

The eastern division was mainly subdued and occupied by the old, slow process of individual effort—the hardy pioneer with his axe and grubbing hoe laboriously making his way westward, until, after five or six generations had lived, and toiled and died, the then far distant Mississippi was reached. During those two centuries there was no other way. The country was too poor to make even good turnpike roads, much less canals, in advance of the slow moving tide of population. The steamboat was first introduced on these great western rivers within the recollection of the writer of this article; but what could they do for the great interior portions of our now most flourishing States? In the day when the first settlers of Indiana, Michigan and Illinois were struggling with difficulties which would have appalled any other people, even the idea of railways had not been conceived; and even after they had been inaugurated, their benefits were for years restricted to those communities whose numbers and wealth gave promise of remunerative trade.

But a new era has dawned. The old process of entering upon new and unoccupied territory has been inverted. The railroad goes in advance of settlement and the locomotive precedes the plough. It is under this new and better process that this trans-Mississippi region opens to the occupancy of civilized men; and this is why the great work is going forward with unexampled speed. High and advanced civilization with all its blessings and benefits, and all its mighty forces, marches in the van, leaving the emigrant, however poor and weak, to enter, and occupy, and enjoy. How strongly this thought presses upon the mind while passing up the valley of the Kansas, on this magnificent road which we came all the way to see—where the traveller observes the recent settlers, in their neat, tasteful and even elegant homes, already in the enjoyment of all the comforts, material, moral and social, to which they had been accustomed in the far-off homes they had left in the Atlantic States. Nothing I have ever seen in human progress so impressed me as this. In Leavenworth and Lawrence, and even farther west, I found hotels, churches, stores, and private dwellings which would be creditable to any city, and as much refinement in dress and manners as can be seen in Cincinnati, Pittsburgh or Philadelphia. And what is better still, there is a total absence of obvious squalidity.

The truth is, this vast region upon which the American people have just begun to enter could not be settled at all without the aid of the railroad. A few poor, semi-barbarians might have located themselves along the margins of the navigable rivers, such as the Missouri and the Arkansas, but that would have been all. Railroads here are a necessity; and our people may have reason to thank God for inspiring our Statesmen with the wise and generous policy displayed in their legislation, and our large-hearted and generous capitalists, such as those who are so vigorously pushing on this and similar works, with the measure of enterprise necessary to give effect to the national policy. This combination of national munificence with individual enterprise will furnish an example of progress to the race, and immeasurably conduce to individual prosperity and happiness, and to national grandeur.

Think of two rival Pacific Railways, one on the Kansas and another on the Platte, each pushing on at the rate of a mile a day in their ardent race to the base of the Rocky Mountains; and of the fact that emigration and business is following the progress of the former so fast, that the receipts for freight and passengers already amount to sixty thousand dollars a month. Could the reader stand where I stood a few days ago, near Fort Riley, and see the piles of overland mail bags transferred from the train to the coaches, and from the coaches to the train, containing not only the mails between the Atlantic and Pacific States, but mails between England and China and Japan, he would feel as I felt, that truly this is THE MARCH OF EMPIRE!

It is my impression that this great line of road up the valley of the Kansas, by way of the Smoky Hill Fork, which, like the Kansas below the fork, has an almost due west course, is not only the shortest route from the great eastern marts of commerce to Denver and to San Francisco, but that it commands a larger number of commercial affluents than any other existing line of railroad between the Missouri and the Pacific. But this is not all: it passes, throughout its whole length, over a region of unsurpassed beauty and fertility—one which will soon be full of people. While at Fort Riley I asked Governor Gilpin, of Colorado, how much of the country between there and Denver was unavailable for settlement; for I had the impression that there was some. His reply was as brief as it was emphatic—"Not an inch." No man knows that country better; and his testimony was confirmed by others. This is a very important fact; for a railroad through a desert is a heavy business both for travellers and proprietors.

With these general remarks I shall close this letter; and in my next go more into the particulars indicated in the first paragraph.

C.

Machinery for Shaping and Forging Iron.

An improved machine for shaping and forging iron has been brought out by Mr. John Arrowsmith, of Bristol, England. The object of this invention is to avoid the excessive manual labor which is now required in working that class of machines for forging and shaping iron known as "Olivers," and by driving the machines by steam or water power. The labor of the workman is thus considerable decreased so much so that work which now requires the weight and strength of a powerful man may be as effectually done by a youth; and the machine may be driven at any speed, and with any force of blow, within certain limits, which may be desired. Upon a strong bed-plate a shaft is mounted in suitable bearings, the shaft having on one end thereof a pulley, by means of which motion is given to the machine by steam or water power; and on the other end of the shaft a fly-wheel of suitable dimensions is fixed, which is for the purpose of giving steadiness to the machine whilst working. At the center of the shaft a cam is fixed, which, revolving with the shaft, acts upon one end of a lever which works upon a pivot; the other or free end of the lever having attached thereto a hammer-head, which may be of the same construction as an ordinary "Oliver." By these means the hammer head is alternately raised and allowed to fall with each revolution of the shaft; but as it is desirable to give greater force to the blow than that which would be due to gravity alone, there is placed on that end of the lever upon which the cam acts a buffer, working in a box containing a strong spiral spring; and this spring, being compressed by the downward motion of the lever, gives, when released, a considerable impetus to the hammer, and causes it to strike the anvil with much greater force than it otherwise would do. But, unless provided for, it is evident that the rise and fall of the hammer, and consequent force of the blow, would always be the same. To remedy this, the shaft is made to work in slippers, and these, sliding in guides, communicate with a treadle; this treadle is provided with three or more foot-plates standing at different hights above the floor, so that the workman, by placing his foot on one or other of these foot-plates, depresses this end of the lever, and thus regulates the hight of the fall, as he thereby moves the cam to or from the before mentioned pivot upon which the lever works, and as alters the motion at the lever. Balance weights are also provided, and these are so arranged as to keep the cam out of action when the hammer is required to be at rest. When the cam is out of contact with the lever, the hammer would, if not prevented, fall and rest on the anvil; but, to avoid this, there is a guide or standard through which the lever may work. Attached to this standard are two or more sliding bolts which communicate with a catch, which catch is drawn on to a notch when the hammer is working. A spiral spring is so arranged that the bolts are in gear when the catch is disengaged. When the catch is on the notch, the hammer is free to work, but when the workman desires to stop it he has only to lift the catch, when the spring immediately draws the bolts across the slot through which the lever works, and so prevents its falling. When desirable to adopt this arrangement for a double "Oliver" another cam may be fixed on the shaft, to work against another lever arranged in a similar manner to that already described. In this manner both levers are fixed upon the same bed-plate, and are both driven by the same power.

THE LAWS OF HEALTH.—It is useless for State Legislatures to pass laws for the preservation of the public health, if the great law of self-preservation, which depends for its enforcement upon the will of the individual, is suffered to remain a dead letter.

There is scarcely an adult member of the community, of either sex, in this country, who has not seen the testimony in favor of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, furnished over their own signatures by persons of acknowledged eminence in science, literature, art, commerce, and every department of business and professional life. These witnesses have declared in the most explicit terms that the preparation is a safeguard against epidemics, a sovereign remedy for dyspepsia, a valuable anti-bilious medicine, a promoter of appetite, a genial and harmless stimulant, a good assisting medicine, a strengthener of the nerves, a general invigorant, a protection against the deleterious effects of malaria and impure water, and that it imparts a degree of vigor and activity to the vital forces which is not communicated by any other of the tonics and stomachics in use. Under these circumstances the self-preservative law of nature should teach every rational person who, either by reason of inherent debility or in consequence of exposure to unwholesome influences, is in peril of the greatest of all temporal blessings, HEALTH, the importance of using the BITTERS as a defensive medicine. Dyspeptics who neglect to give it a trial are simply their own enemies. It is guaranteed to cure indigestion in all its forms, and the bilious and nervous will find nothing in the whole range of official and proprietary medicines which will afford them the same relief.

Letter from Anawan.

Shale Parricide—Trial of the Boy Joseph P. Shale for the Murder of his Father, in May Last—Empanneling a Jury—Particulars of the First Day's Proceedings—The Alleged Election Fraud—Conspiracy Case—A Pleasant Party—Disappointed "Star-Gazers."

LEWISBURG, PA., Nov. 14, 1866.

In May last I furnished your readers with an account of the shooting of John Shale, Esq., of Cook township, in this county, and of the subsequent arrest of his eldest son, Joseph P. Shale, charged with the crime. Without a recapitulation of the facts or incidents before mentioned, I will now report the case as it will appear in the evidence: At the last term of Court, after a great deal of difficulty, a jury was empannelled and the case proceeded with for some time, when one of the jurymen was struck with palsy and another was taken sick, so that the balance had to be discharged, and the trial continued. Yesterday at half past four o'clock another jury was empannelled, after fifteen peremptor and ten cause challenges by the defence, and six cause and three peremptory challenges by the Commonwealth. The case was then proceeded with. James Todd, Esq., District Attorney, H. R. Laird and James A. Hunter, Esqs. for the Commonwealth, and Hon. H. D. Foster and Jacob Torney, for the defence. Mr. Laird opened with a brief statement, after which Court adjourned.

In the case at the alleged election fraud culprits, the District Attorney moved a continuance, which, after some discussion, was agreed to. His Honor held them in the sum of $700 bail and their own recognizance for their appearance next term. This is a case wherein certain parties—ten in number—from Allegheny county and elsewhere, were arrested and held in the sum of $1,000 bail to appear and answer a charge of conspiracy to do or cause to have done illegal voting in Westmoreland county. The parties held are: Wesley Wilson, Thomas Herod, John T. Fullerton, John Stewart, Wm. Redpath, Thomas Breeze, Matthew Sloan, William Johnson, Samuel Allender and David E. Hall.

Hon. James F. Carpenter entertained, at his magnificent mansion, last night in a most sumptuous manner, the bench, the Honorables—of which Greensburg can boast quite a number—and the most notable members of the bar and the press. The viands were superb, while the et ceteras were either very palatable or the gentlemen acted well. At all events everyone came away impressed with the idea that Mr. Carpenter and his good lady, being bon vivants themselves, understood how to cater to the tastes of others, however diversified. Vive a la Carpenter. May he never grow less.

Many prepared themselves last night to see stars, but whether the stars they saw were in the ethereal region or all in their eye, I can not say; certain it is that the great meteoric phenomenon, so much talked of, was not so much of a phenomenon after all, as its non-appearance was.

The Canadian burglar, George W. Stratton, was to-day taken to the State of Missouri on a requisition from Governor Fletcher. So ends the great Stratton-Wilkinson trial here, which has agitated the community for some time. ANAWAN.

Book Notice.

THE DIETRIC SYSTEM.—A compilation, consisting of extracts from the Committees of the House of Representatives, and the law of Congress adopting the system, and tables of authorized weights and measures. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippencott & Co. Pittsburgh: For sale by Henry Miner.

This system for measuring lengths, surfaces, capacities, weights, and what not, will slowly but certainly work its way to general approval and use. Its advantages are so manifest that there can be no doubt of its utility. This little manuel is timely because it explains and elucidates the matter.

Editors Gazette.—Please enquire of the Allegheny Street Commissioner, whether among the immunities granted to the Railway Company, the huge mudhole on the side walk of Federal street, immediately in front of the Depot of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway, is included? This heavy accumulation of mud supplies a liberal coating for the whole square, and is an abomination to any city. Reproach not only, but the severest censure should attach to somebody—the Councils—if the requisite ordinance is not in existence—to the Street Committee or Commissioner, if the law exists—for not enforcing it. Such a condition of such a thoroughfare should not be permitted to remain for a single day. PEDESTRIAN.

Aggravated Assault and Battery.—Patrick Leonard appeared before Alderman Strain on Tuesday and made oath against James Finn for aggravated assault and battery. It appears the accused, while laboring under a fit of temporary insanity produced by excessive indulgence in intoxicating beverages, went to the home of the defendant No. 22 Decatur street, and without any cause or provocation struck Patrick on the head with a club inflicting a gash of several inches on the forehead of the prosecutor. A warrant was placed in the hands of officer Seth Wilmot, who succeeded in arresting the accused and bringing him before the magistrate who committed him to jail in default of the requisite $500 bail.

A Striking Work.—Charles Work went to work yesterday and knocked down Henry Lindsey, whom he "met by chance in the usual way" in the Scotch Hill Park in the Second ward. Unable to see any good cause why he should be thus assailed, Lindsey determined to know the reason why, and for that purpose visited the office of Alderman Strain, before whom he laid bare the story of his wrongs and demanded redress. The courteous magistrate, actuated with the desire of another Haroun al Raschid, issued a warrant for Work, and had him arrested. He was released, however, on giving bail for a hearing to-day.

Officers Chosen.—The stockholders of the Eureka Insurance Company held a meeting yesterday at their rooms Bagaley's Building, Water street, for the purpose of electing Directors for the ensuing year. The following are the names of the gentlemen elected: J. E. Shoenberger, W. K. Nimick, W. J. Anderson, R. J. Anderson, James I. Bennett, M. W. Beltzhoover, R. D. Cochran, J. A. Caughey, W. W. Martin, Byron H. Painter, A. D. Smith, R. T. Leech, I. M. Pennock. Messrs. Leech and Pennock were elected in the places of Wm Thaw and Henry Hays.

EARLY TELEGRAMS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Fenians Ready for Another Invasion of Canada—Impeachment of the President—The Resumption of Specie Payment—Action of Prussia Against American Citizens—The Smithson-Stanton Case—One Thousand Stand of Arms Stolen.

NEW YORK, November 14.—The World's Washington special says: The government has information professing that the Fenians are in readiness for an immediate invasion of Canada. It is not probable that any action will be taken in the premises, as the news is doubted somewhat.

The Herald's Washington special says: It is said that Hon. John A. Bingham, who is preparing articles of impeachment against Mr. Johnson, will charge him with aiding and abetting the assassination of Mr. Lincoln.

It is understood that Mr. McCulloch will, in his report, urge upon Congress the necessity for the passage of a law looking toward an early resumption of specie payments. The report will be quite voluminous, and will be one of the most interesting ever issued from that Department.

General Sickles, commander of the Department of South Carolina, has been called to Washington. The precise import of the order is a State secret.

The Herald's Washington specials say: On the meeting of Congress a resolution will be introduced, calling for all information on the subject of the action of Prussia against American citizens. The whole matter will be thoroughly investigated. In the opinion of many prominent gentlemen, our Minister at the seat of the Prussian Government has pursued an ulterior course, highly reprehensible. It is understood that the Government is not particularly well satisfied with his conduct.

There are a number of candidates for the vacancy in the judgeship of the United States District Court, for the Northern District of Ohio, occasioned by the death of Judge Wilson. Among the number of applicants are F. J. Dickman, F. T. Backus, S. J. Andrews, and others.

The case of the banker Smithson against the Secretary of War, has gone through all the pleadings, and is now ready to go to the jury. It is understood to be a test case, and a great interest is felt in its result.

Last week one thousand stand of arms were abstracted from the Armory in this city, and are now concealed near by. This was done while guards were on duty around it. The United States Marshal and Captain Phillington are hunting up the parties.

The Cabinet to-day, among other matters, considered the appointment of a successor to William Dart, District Attorney for Northern New York, and Judge George G. Munger's appointment was determined upon.

R. M. T. Hunter, of Virginia, had an interview with the President this afternoon. He desires to have certain property of his in Western Virginia, barred from confiscation; but as it has already been confiscated under previous decisions of the Federal authorities, there is no doubt that action will be sustained.

Within the last few days the President has directed pardons to be issued to the following persons, one of whom sought for pardon under the first exception of the amnesty proclamation, having held a petty office under the Confederacy, and the remainder applied under the $20,000 clause: Willis Benham, of Georgia; William A. Pegram, of Louisiana; D. H. Reynolds, of Arkansas; J. D. Eppes, of Mississippi; W. A. Henderson, Wm. Jones and John M. Brown, of Tennessee.

Burning of the Henry Von Phul—Several Persons Drowned—Boat and Cargo a Total Loss.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 14.—The Commercial's New Orleans dispatch of the 13th, furnishes the following particulars of the burning of the steamer Henry Von Phul, with 3,800 bales of cotton, at three o'clock this morning, above Donaldsonville. The fire communicated to the cotton from the pipe of deck hand, and was soon under full headway. The boat was immediately run ashore.

There were 101 passengers on board, including a number of ladies, nearly all of whom escaped ashore, with the loss of all their baggage and clothes, many of them having only their night clothes. One passenger was burned and several drowned. Boat and cargo a total loss.

Missouri Election.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The Tribune's St. Louis special says: The Conservative canvassers have been induced to throw out all the votes in Clinton county except those cast in one town, thereby endangering the election of Van Horn. A claim has been made by Knox to votes cast after sundown as the polls had not been closed. If allowed Blair is defeated, Noel having about forty majority.

Society of the Army of the Tennessee.

CINCINNATI, November 14.—The Society of the Army of the Tennessee met at Mozart Hall at eleven o'clock this morning, and organized by electing General Rawlings President. There is a large attendance, and great cordiality prevails.

PURE CALIFORNIA WINES.

GURNER & CO.,

No. 8 [illegible] St., New Y[illegible]

Offer for sale [illegible] Wines, which are [illegible] whose unprecedented and unrivalled popularity is not without merit. They are only to be fairly tested to give them the preference over all others. As a purifier of blood they excel all other Wines, and the numerous certificates which have voluntarily been tendered from the most eminent physicians, as well as gentlemen in every position in life, are proof conclusive that these Wines are useful in all cases for which they are recommended.

The following brands are now offered by us. They comprise all the varieties now grown in the State suitable for sale:

WHITE, or HOCK WINE—Of a light straw color, very delicate and fine flavored.

CLARET—A superior wine for table use.

ANGELICA—A rich and naturally sweet wine, much admired by ladies, and valuable in the sick chamber, as it makes fine whey and jellies. It is a fine dessert wine, and well adapted for Communion purposes.

MUSCATEL—A light colored, highly aromatic wine. Very similar to the celebrated Tokay.

PORT—Deep red color, fine flavor, and in many respects similar to the old wines of Lisbon.

GRAPE BRANDY—The pure distillation of our wines.

WINE BITTERS—A very agreeable tonic and a sure remedy for the diarrhea.

To these we would add, as one of the most valuable combinations of a useful and an agreeable beverage that has ever been offered to the public. Millions of bottles were sold throughout the North during the last four years, and wherever introduced it has proved a welcome addition to the invalid table, the family circle, and the bachelor's sideboard.

Ladies who have lost strength and appetite, and suffer from nausea, vomiting and vertigo; gentlemen who "don't feel very well" just before breakfast or dinner; those whose stomachs are out of order and whose system are generally deranged; mothers weaning children and suffering from general debility; children of sickly nature and sour, dyspeptic constitutions; travelers who have occasion to change their water; and all who live in malarious districts and are subject to intermittent fevers, will find it one of the most valuable invigorators that can be taken.

It is now used very extensively in [illegible] with such general satisfaction that in offering it to the public now it seems to be unnecessary to publish any of the many certificates that we have received, testifying in the strongest terms in its favor. All that we can say is, guarantee that we will pledge ourselves to furnish an article PURE AND UNADULTERATED.

It has been given to little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with the most happy effect. One little girl in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill has been exhausted, has been entirely restored. She began by taking but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased and she is now well.

VERY LATEST TELEGRAMS.

New Distillery Law—Frauds Still Practiced—Rowing Match—Scarcity of Money in the South—Tobacco Crop.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—It is stated by some of the leading officers of the Internal Revenue Department of this city, that the new law in relation to distilleries which went into operation on the 1st of September has failed to prevent the frauds in the manufacture of whisky for which it was enacted. Liquor can still be obtained at less than the cost of the duty imposed on it, and this fact conclusively proves that no tax has been paid upon it. One of the leading sections of the new law provides that an inspector shall be placed in charge of each distillery day and night, and that locks of intricate construction shall be placed on the doors of each. Only a few inspectors have been appointed, but it is believed that all the positions will be filled by December.

Some of the Federal locks, designed for the distilleries, have been received in this city by the Revenue Inspectors, and the remainder will be here next week. They are now being placed on the doors of the buildings devoted to the manufacture of whisky.

The single scull rowing match between Gilbert Ward, of Cornwall, and William Stevens, of Poughkeepsie, for three hundred dollars, which was to have come off yesterday was unavoidably postponed on account of the roughness of the water. The race will come off on the first fair day.

The Montgomery, Alabama, Advertiser says in regard to the scarcity of money: This state of affairs may be ascribed to several causes. It is true that for some time past cotton has been moving to market in small quantities, and readily sold at prevailing prices, but most of the money from this source has been sent out of the State to meet the advance made in the season for implements, animals, &c., or has been hoarded up by the cautious and provident for future and more pressing necessities. We know at least that instead of an increase of circulation, the scarcity of money seems to be greater than ever, notwithstanding these sales of cotton.

The Richmond Examiner says of the tobacco crop in some of the counties where labor has been uncertain and inadequate: Yet, even in these counties the crop will be better than was supposed, but in Pittsylvania, Henry and Patrick counties, and in adjacent counties of South Carolina the crop is excellent both in quality and quantity. The Examiner estimates the entire crop of Virginia at two-thirds that of 1860.

Convention of Locomotive Engineers.

BOSTON, Nov. 14.—The grand international division of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers commenced their annual session in this city to-day. Mr. Charles Wilson, of Rochester, presides. The Association was organized in Detroit in 1863, and has for its object the improvement of the condition of locomotive engineers, and to urge upon railroad officials the propriety of adopting such rules as tend to harmonize the relations existing between the employees and employers, and discountenance all strikes, believing that the interests of each can better be served by more just and rational means. Between sixty and seventy delegates are present, representing all parts of the country.

Railroad Robbers Captured.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., November 14.—The superintendent of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad reports that the robbers who recently committed the depredation on that road, have been captured by the Franklin expedition.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

WEDNESDAY, November 14, 1866.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as reported by Robinson, McClean & Co., were as follows: Gold, 145½; 1881's, 114; 5-20's old, 110; 5-20s '65, 107⅞; 5-20s, new issue, 109⅜; 7-30s, 1st series, 107½; second and third, 105⅝. Michigan Southern R. R., 88¼; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 88⅞; Erie R. R., 81⅝; Union Telegraph Company, 50¾; Chicago & North Western, 53¾; Chicago & Rock Island, 107¼.

—The funding is not proceeding rapidly enough, although making respectable progress. The New York Tribune remarks that congress should without delay authorize Mr. McCullough to pay a commission large enough to set every Bank and Broker throughout the country to exchange 7-30 for 5-20 Bonds.

—The custom duties for gold are gradually falling off, being a million less than last season thus far in November. It would probably be very convenient for the treasury to realize in the course of the next few weeks on $20,000,000 or $25,000,000 of its present large surplus, and to apply the premium to the further reduction of the principal of the public debt; but we doubt whether the Secretary will be disposed to follow down the price until he gets rid of all that he may be disposed to turn into currency at present, and then leave the market to be run up again by the combinations of the gold room; the rapid and arbitrary fluctuations both ways being equally detrimental to the reasonable stability of trade, and the steady collection of the customs and internal revenues.

—The tax upon stocks of national banks is exerting some feeling among shareholders, who have been presented with bills from the tax office. The commissioners are in possession of complete lists of shareholders, and the tax cannot be avoided by any person. As the law makes the bank liable at its place of business for the tax, and in the absence of payment by the shareholders, some banks in New York have determined to assume the payment of the tax and charge it to the shareholders. This course will probably be pursued here also.

—According to the official memoranda published for the information of holders of United States 7-30s notes, the following general directions are given for the conversion of these securities into 5-20 bonds. Interest on the 7-30 notes is credited from August 15, 1866, to date of conversion, at 7-30 per cent; and the interest on the 5-20 bonds is charged from July 1, 1866, to date of conversion at 6 per cent—difference in interest received in currency. All notes must be endorsed "Pay the Secretary of the Treasury for redemption," and endorsed by the depositor. Notes made payable to order must have the endorsement verified. A circular on this subject from the Treasurer's office, at Washington, under date November 10th, gives the following specific information:

"Payments for interest arising in settlement of 7-30 notes sent to the Secretary of the Treasury for conversion into United States 6 per cent bonds, act of March, 1865, should be made either in currency or by National bank draft, drawn on any other National bank in this or any of the four principal Atlantic cities, which, when collected, will be received in payment of said interest. When the remittance for such interest is sent in the same enclosure with the notes forwarded for conversion, the amount should be specified in the letter advising transmission of the notes, and the currency or draft enclosed in an envolope addressed to the Treasury of the United States, with the contents marked on the outside. Drafts in payment of interest should in all cases be made payable to the Treasury of the United States. Remittances for such interest, when not sent with the notes, should be forwarded directly to the Treasurer of the United States. Parties sending 7-30 notes for conversion should state the denomination of bonds required, and whether they wish registered or coupon bonds. If registered stock is requested, the parties should be particular and state at which of the following places they desire the interest payable: Washington D. C., New York, Philadelphia, Boston, New Orleans, St. Louis, Baltimore, Cincinnati or Chicago.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, November 14, 1866.

The operations in the general markets continue rather light, as the demand for most of the leading commodities is restricted mainly to supplying the wants of the local trade, and, consequently, round lot operations are of rare occurrence. So far, however, as values are concerned, there are no changes worthy of special notice.

GRAIN—Wheat is a shade firmer, in consequence of an advance in Chicago, but there is no improvement to note in the demand. Oats in better supply and a fraction lower—sale of 600 bush at 53½—small sales in store at 55 to 58. New Corn is very dull, being offered at 70, without finding buyers—no sales of old. Rye is wanted at $1,20, and but little offering. Barley continues to come in pretty freely, but the market is a little dull and unsettled, and we omit quotations in the absence of sales.

FLOUR—is steady with a fair local demand, and if anything the market is a shade firmer. We continue to quote at $12¼ to $12½ for good to choice Spring Wheat brands, and $13¼ to $14 for Winter Wheat. Rye Flour is quoted at $8¼ to $8½—sales of Buckwheat, in store, at $4½.

APPLES—More active, though the receipts continue large, and the supply is considerably in excess of the demand. We can report the following sales on track: 137 bbls common at $2,25 per bbl; 150 do fair at $2,85; 150 do prime at $3,25; and 150 do choice at $3½.

POTATOES—There is a fair demand, but prices are without quotable change. Prime Peach Blows $2,50 per bbl; and prime Jersey Sweets are $5 per bbl.

HAY—Prime baled Hay is in steady demand and sells readily at $24 to $25. Common and inferior is dull and neglected.

CRANBERRIES—With a light supply and steady demand, the market may be quoted firm at $15 per bbl for common, and $20 for cultivated.

CHEESE—Continues dull, with a supply considerably in excess of the demand, but prices remain unchanged.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is dull and nominally unchanged. Lard is quoted at 15 to 15½, for prime kettle rendered. No movement in Mess Pork.

DRIED FRUIT—Peaches are selling in a regular way at 18 to 20, for quarters and halves mixed; and 22 to 23 for halves. There is not enough doing in Apples to establish quotations.

BUTTER—Prime Roll is in fair demand and good supply; regular sales at 30 to 32.

EGGS—Scarce and in demand, and fresh packed may be quoted at 30.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in good demand, and we can report sales at $3 to $3,10—the latter figure at mills. Timothy is dull at $3. No movement in Clover.

ONIONS—Selling in a regular way from store at $2,50 to $3 per bbl, as to quality.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, November 14, 1866.

CRUDE—The Crude market is steady but without decided change, one way or the other. The receipts continue very light, and as the available supply is getting pretty well reduced, there is not the same disposition manifested on the part of holders to sell that there was a day or two since, and while it is conceded that the market is a shade stronger, it is equally true that there is nothing in the trade at present to justify an advance. We continue to quote at 10¼ to 11, bbls returned and in bulk, and 15¾ to 16, bbls included, according to gravity, and the demand is restricted almost entirely to good gravities—sale of 900 bbls at 11; and 1200 at same figure. We have no late advices from Oil City—the eastern news is unimportant.

REFINED—There is no new feature in the market for bonded oil worthy of special notice. There is still some inquiry, both for present and future delivery, and but little offering this side of January. We can report a sale of 1000 bbls for December delivery, in Philadelphia, at 36, and 500 for February, at 35½. On the cars here we continue to quote at 29 to 29½, and 35½ to 36, delivered in Philadelphia. Free oil is dull; standard brands may be quoted at 50, for 25 to 30 barrel lots.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day:

Sneathen & Co.	1500	Fisher & Bro.	831
Jas. Gallagher	121	W. P. Logan	277
Barbour & Co.	56

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, November 14.—The Dry Goods Market shows more animation and more hopeful signs for the future. Yesterday afternoon there were more buyers in the market and this morning there are further increased demand, causing more activity than since the middle or first of October. The reduction in prices of leading goods by some leading jobbers on Monday and yesterday also caused an increased demdnd from merchants near by, and, altogether, a much more satisfactory business is doing.

Chicago Cattle Market.

CHICAGO, November 13.—The fresh receipts of Beef Cattle to-day at the Union Stock Yards are 631 head. Entered sales, 100 head, at prices ranging from $4@4,75 for common to fair cows, and from $5@5,20 for medium steers. The receipts are light, and, with the unfavorable reports from New York, it is fortunate that it is the case. There is little or no demand for cattle, and we would advise shippers in the country to keep back their stock until the market takes a more favorable turn.

Cleveland Market.

CLEVELAND, November 13.—Wheat—Firm but demand light; sales in car lots are reported at $2,40@2,55 for No. 1 Milwaukee and Chicago Spring. Round lots of No. 2 offered at $2,15 without buyers. Corn firmer and better; held at $1 for No. 1 mixed; 98c for No. 2 do. Oats better and in fair demand, held at 48 to 50 for No. State. Rye—held at $1,25 for No. 1. Barley held at $1,05@1,15 for No. 1 Canada; 85 to $1 for No. 2 State.

Philadelphia Market.

PHILADELPHIA, November 14.—Flour Market buoyant; sales of Western at $12,25@13,75. Wheat quiet. Corn unsettled; Yellow $1,25@1,30. Oats unchanged. Provisions have a declining tendency. Lard and Bacon unchanged. Whiskey steady.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

Financial Matters in New York.

NEW YORK, November 14.—Money fairly active, chiefly at 5 per cent. Sterling dull, at 108¾@109¼. Gold scarcely so firm, opening at 144½, advancing to 145¼, declining to 144⅛, and closing at 144½. Government stocks a shade easier. Stocks steady; Rock Island, 107; Northwestern, 51½; Michigan Central, 113¼; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 88¾; Michigan Southern, 85; Reading, 114; Erie, 78; do. preferred, 84; New York Central, 112¾; Pacific Mail, 250; Atlantic Mail, 110; Western Union Telegraph, 50¾; Ten-Forties, coupons, 100¼; Seven-Thirties, second series, 105⅝; do. third series, 105½; Alton & Terre Haute, 45; Cleveland & Toledo, 115¼.

The Commercial's money article says: The money market shows a tendency toward increased ease, the effect perhaps rather of a diminished demand from brokers than of any change in the condition of the banks. The larger stock firms are again able to borrow on stock collaterals at 4 per cent., though 5 per cent. is the predominate rate. Discounts are somewhat active. There is a large supply of paper on the market, and some pressure to sell. The rate for prime names is 6@6½ per cent. Foreign Exchange nominal, at 109@109¼ for prime bankers' 60 days sterling.

The Post's money article says: The Loan market is more active and very little business is doing below 6 per cent. on call loans, and 6@7½ on discounts. The draw of currency to the interior still continues. The Stock market opened steady, became weak and closed steady. After the regular board the quotations were as follows: New York Central, 116⅝; Erie, 79¼; Hudson, 125; Reading, 113¾; Michigan Central, 112¾; Michigan Southern, 84¾; Pittsburgh, 87; Northwestern, 50¾; Northwestern preferred, 74; Toledo, 115¼. Foreign Exchange dull; bills at 60 days on London are quoted at 108⅝@108¾; for Commercial, 109@109¼; Banker's do at short sight, 109½@110.

LATEST.—The Money market closed up perfectly easy at 4@5 per cent. tendency towards even greater ease. Discounts are moderately active at 6@7 per cent. for prime names, but all paper is scanned very closely. The Gold market left off quietly at 144⅜@144½ cash. Gold is rather more plenty, and 3 per cent. was paid this afternoon to have it carried. The market for Foreign Exchange remains very dull and rates were almost nominal; prime bankers' bills, 109@109¼.

Government Securities were quiet and steady this afternoon, at the following quotations: Registered of '81, 114@114¼; Coupons of '81, 114@114¼; Five-twenties registered of '62, 107¼@107½; do Coupons of '62, 110@110¼; Coupons of '64, 107@107¼; do '65, 107¼@107½; do January and July, 109⅜@109½; Ten-forties registered, 100⅛@100¼; do Coupons, 100⅛@100¼; August Seven-thirties, 107¼@107½; June do, 105⅝@106; July do, 105⅝@105⅞; June compounds of '64, 116⅞@117; July do, 116⅝@116⅞; August do, 115⅞@116; October do, 114⅝@115; December do, 113⅝@114; May do, 112¼@112½; August do, 110⅞@111; September do, 110⅜@110½; October do, 109⅞@110.

There was a more buoyant feeling at the last open board, and a general advance from the lowest point of the day, which was quite marked. In some cases a large number of weak parties have been sold out, and the stocks have passed into stronger hands. The short interest in the whole market has been materially increased and especially in the leading speculative railway shares. At the close the market had a more settled appearance than for some days past, and it really looks as if the ownward movement had been effectually arrested.

New York Produce Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Cotton fully 1c lower and in moderate demand, at 35c for middling uplands. H. O., and $12,45@14,00 for Trade Brands. Rye flour quiet. Whisky quiet and unchanged. Receipts of Wheat, 111,331 bush; market 3@5c better on Spring, with a fair speculative demand; sales of 89,000 bush at $2,30@2,21 for No. 2 Chicago and Milwaukee, the latter for very choice, and $2,18 for inferior Chicago Spring. RIVER NEWS.

The river is still receding slowly at this point, with three feet in the channel by the marks last evening. The weather yesterday was soft and cloudy, with every appearance of rain.

The Forest City, from Parkersburg, is the only arrival we have to report. She will return again to-day, taking the place of the Grey Eagle, the latter boat being compelled to lie up, and wait for more water.

The Argosy got off for Cincinnati late on Tuesday night. She had a moderate freight list, and a fair number of passengers. The Quickstep was advertised to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh, on Tuesday.

The Amelia Poe, from Cincinnati, ought to have arrived here last night, having left Cincinnati on Friday last.

The Ezra Porter, from New Orleans, and the Glasgow, from St. Louis, if not loaded too deep, will doubtless reach here to-night or to-morrow.

The Nora, Capt. H. H. Devinney, will positively leave for Cincinnati and Louisville to-day, and passengers and shippers should bear this fact in mind. She has excellent accommodations for passengers. The Silver Lake is next in turn after the Nora.

The Sherman is announced for St. Louis, Armenia, for New Orleans, and the Camelia, for Nashville. Captain Lytle says the Camelia will soon get out, provided our shippers give him all the freight he can take.

Business continues very dull at the levee, freights for all points being very scarce, and our steamboat friends feel very much discouraged—many of them feel like selling out, and retiring from the river in disgust. With but three feet water, light draft boats can only take out about half a load, and it takes, ordinarily about a week to pick that up.

The river editor of the Cincinnati Commercial, while acknowledging that Pittsburgh turns out "fast and splendid steamers," takes exception to one thing, he does not like the painting. Here is what he has to say in regard to the Great Republic:

"The press of Pittsburgh and all who have examined Capt. Donaldson's new steamer Great Republic agree that she will be one of the most complete business, as well as magnificent passenger, steamers afloat. We have always given the proper credit to our Pittsburgh friends for building excellent boats, but must confess we have one fault to find, which is the painting. While Pittsburgh mechanics build fast and splendid steamers, they always turn out dark and dingy jobs of painting. We hope that Captain Donaldson will see that she receives several coats of pure, white, zinc paint, which, we are sure, will add greatly to her appearance."

Even admitting that the criticism in the above paragraph is well founded, we have no hesitation in saying that our Pittsburgh painters are able to do as nice work as those of Cincinnati or elsewhere. It should be borne in mind that the selections of colors, etc., etc., is made by the Captain and owners, and, therefore, if the painting of Pittsburgh boats does not please the taste of the critic above referred to, he should not hold our painters responsible. Perhaps, Capt. Donaldson will profit by the above given advice, and give the great Republic "several coats of pure, white, zinc paint."

—Since the above was put in type, a "boss" painter informs us that owing to the dense smoke and soot that is constantly in the atmosphere, it is impossible almost to do a nice clean job of painting here, and in this particular, Cincinnati painters have the advantage, and are enabled, perhaps, to make a better "show," though, in reality, the material and workmanship may be of an inferior order.

Capt. Chas. W. Batchelor, of this city, left Cincinnati on Monday for New Orleans, a passenger on the Alice Dean.

The Memphis Avalanche, of Saturday, says: The Talequah arrived yesterday morning from Cincinnati. She discharged here one hundred tons of merchandise, and left for Little Rock. She will ply as a regular packet in the Memphis and Little Rock trade.
